

CJS 102: The Individual, Society, and Justice

Dr. Ralph Weisheit
430 Schroeder Hall
raweish@ilstu.edu

As the global economy expands, so too, does a recognition that some issues of justice have a global dimension. This course covers three areas related to justice:

WHAT IS JUSTICE

- Where do we get our ideas of justice?
- Formal systems of justice around the world.
- Justice and your rights under the U.S. Constitution.

ISSUES OF INJUSTICE

- Contemporary slavery.
- Contemporary genocide.
- The use of child soldiers.
- Justice and the environment.

RESPONDING TO INJUSTICE

- Actions that individuals can take.
- What organizations can do.
- Global justice and the rise of the International Criminal Court.