

CJS 314

GIScience: Crime Mapping in Criminal Justice

Have you ever wondered why the majority of crime is concentrated in a few small locations?

Would you like to develop marketable skills that allow you identify these locations and prevent crime through creative response?

CJS 314 gives you the skills (through innovative lab protocols) to show where crime is concentrated using real data, while promoting creative responses to crime through a Problem-Oriented Policing framework.